

Dear reader,

Empty Purse Publications was delighted when we received the invitation to contribute to this book. Perhaps there is a readership out there who may be curious about the featured organizations, but we are most curious about the readers themselves.

In line with the practices of Empty Purse, which pairs content with a thematically relevant medium, we propose to use the pages of this book as the form of our next publication. We were allotted 3 pages to describe our organization, but we would rather use this space to find out about you.

- 1. As a reader of this book, please answer the questions on the opposite page.

These are similar to the questions we answered as contributors.

- 2. Cut and fold the opposite page into an envelope. Alternatively, you may download a simulacrum from www.emptypursepub.com/Issue4.

- 3. Into the envelope, drop one visual artifact to go with your entry: an object, image etc, it is up to you.

Mail us this envelope.

- 4. We will compile all submissions into a book similar in shape to this one. It will be called: EPP #4: The Reader Reader.

We will return your submission to you along with a copy of The Reader Reader.
